

Interpersonal Communication Faculty Interest Group

Facilitated by Gordon Young (Communications & Performing Arts), this group will explore readings in Interpersonal Communication, an area of communication that focuses on two person relationships. Interpersonal Communication is central to our classroom, collegial and personal lives and rests on four basic assumptions:

- Interpersonal communication is inescapable
- Interpersonal communication is irreversible
- Interpersonal communication is complex
- Interpersonal communication gains meaning from the contexts

This semester, the group will be reading Pamela Meyer's Liespotting: Proven Techniques to Detect Deception, an engaging read that looks more closely at the communication that we do everyday and how it can lead us to the truth. As always, we look forward to a number of lively discussions.

Group will be meeting on the following Mondays at 3pm in M-391:

September 21st (Ch 1-2), October 5th (Ch 3-5),
October 26th (Ch 6-7) & November 9th (Ch 8-10).

Copies of the book are available for pickup in KCTL (M-391).

For more information or to join, please contact Gordon at gyoung@kingsborough.edu or at EXT. 5939.